Instructions:

Today, we've been talking about Isaiah. Isaiah is a character in the Bible who did something very special. Does anyone remember what Isaiah did? (He saw God) Yes, Isaiah saw God. That's pretty cool. What do you think it would be like to see God? How might you feel? Allow kids to respond. Today, we're going to draw pictures of ourselves. When you draw yourself, I want you to draw what you think you'd look and feel like if you saw God. Ready? Let's get started!

1. Give each kid a printed sheet of paper.
2. Have kids draw pictures of themselves. As kids draw, invite them to think of what they might like to wear, carry with them, etc. if they got to meet God. Kids can be anywhere they like in the picture—going to church, being with family, playing soccer, or more! Encourage kids to be creative.
3. When kids are satisfied with their portraits, invite volunteers to share their pictures with the class.

Your portraits look great! Just like Isaiah, you have all been called by God. And you can each see God all around you. God is Holy! Holy! Holy!

If you have less time...

Limit the amount of time kids have to share their portraits.

If you have more time...

Make a display of your artwork for all to see on a bulletin board, in a hallway, or anywhere else in the building where the whole congregation can enjoy.
